

Another Day Another Battle

Written by Graeme Lockhart

another day another battle,
ease our way Lord bye and bye,
another day another battle,
ease our way Lord bye and bye,

I was down, scarred and battered,
ease our way Lord bye and bye I was down and nothing mattered
ease our way Lord bye and bye

another day another battle,
ease our way Lord bye and bye,
another day another battle,
ease our way Lord bye and bye,

and the fierce and chilly wind, blows a few thousand years away, and your humbled by the whisper, of a strange authority, and the stones rise up to face you, and you breath the freshest air, and you feel the pull of ages, and the ancients standing there,

another day another battle,
ease our way Lord bye and bye,
another day another battle,
ease our way Lord bye and bye,
